Guidelines Regarding Procurement of Equipment, Material & Items for the Innovation Project Work and Procedure for Taking Reimbursement of Expenses

- 1) The team/start-up can claim the expenses incurred towards the innovation project for reimbursement. The bills/invoice can be raised either in the name of team lead of innovation (or) startup registered by the team (or) incubation unit (or) institute name. In all such cases, these bills need to be verified by the incubation unit where the innovation is incubated (or) directly by the committee established at institute for reimbursement to the team.
- 2) The team/start-up can directly procure the items or materials or equipment required for the innovation project from the open market or GEM portal. The bills/invoice can be raised either in the name of team lead of innovation (or) start-up registered by the team (or) incubation unit (or) institute name. In such case, these bills need to be verified by the incubation unit where the innovation is incubated (or) directly by the committee established at institute for reimbursement.
- 3) Both reimbursement and advance mode of fund utilization is permissible. The team/start-up can submit request for advance amount to incubation unit (or) institute for the expenses towards procurement of equipment, materials, items and other major expenses falling under the prescribed budget heads. The incubation unit (or) institute needs to verify the requirement. The team/start-up can avail advance amount up to Rs. 50,000 or 20% of total grant sanctioned for the above expenses. Teams are required to settle the advance amount taken with all bills and vouchers within a period of two months from the date of advance taken from incubation unit (or) institute. Team can't avail advance for second time without clearing the advance taken previously.
- 4) In case the fund is released to institution and the team/start-up is incubated in the incubation unit which is part of the institute/university and located in the same campus, then team/start-up can request the institute to transfer the grant to the incubation unit for utilisation (or) team/start-up can submit the expense details verified by the incubation unit to the institute for reimbursement whichever is convenient. Both incubation unit and institution needs to work out a suitable mechanism for smooth and quick process for fund utilization for the innovation development work.
- 5) In case the fund is released to institution and the team/start-up is incubated in the incubation unit which is different from the institution/university and located in different place, then team/start-up can request the institute to transfer the grant to the incubation unit for utilisation (or) team/start-up can submit the expense details verified by the incubation unit to the institute for reimbursement whichever is convenient. Incubation unit and institution both needs to work out a suitable mechanism for smooth and quick process for fund utilization for the innovation development work.
- 6) The Grant-in-Aid fund is channelized through the incubation unit (or) institute exclusively for the mentioned innovation project development and start-up establishment work. The prescribed budget heads in the sanction letter and GIA also covers expenses towards rental charge for incubation space and service fees for technical and mentoring support and access to lab facilities. The team/start-up can utilise the fund for the above services while receiving incubation support at the incubation unit (or) institute. In this scenario, so far the innovation is developed by the team with no substantial financial resources (or) technical contribution made by the institute, the Intellectual Property (IPs) associated with the innovation will remain with the team/start-up only. In such case, institute can't claim any ownership on the IP generated by the team/start-up. Similarly, if team has registered the start-up, they can avail the incubation services either on rental mode or equity mode (or) both. In case of equity mode, incubation unit can ask for equity sharing only after having a minimum 3 months' incubation service with the team/start-up on rental mode. The incubation unit can't own more than 9.5% of total equity in the start-up.
